CCF Releases Plant Prestart app

CCF Tasmania in conjunction with our partner, Collective Intelligence Construction (CIC) is today, launching an exciting new app that will assist in streamlining compliance obligations, saving businesses time and money by allowing users to complete safety pre-start checklists and requirements electronically.

The App is called Prestart and its release is set to coincide with Safe Work Month.

Mr. Cook said, "Compliance to regulations and safety standards is critical in the civil construction and the wider construction industry, not only for operational purposes, but also to safeguard employees, contractors, customers and the local community. Compliance procedures however can be time consuming and tedious, disrupting efficiencies, which can be costly to businesses".

"Many businesses and operators conduct safety requirements using manual processes and hard copy documentation that can be easily misplaced. Time loss from manual methods create unnecessary human capital costs and can place the business in a vulnerable position if documentation is lost and compliance rejected".

"The Prestart app is a solution that overcomes these time and money absorbing processes by making the compliance processes more efficient", said Mr. Cook

The Prestart app is one of many modules developed by Collective Intelligence Construction (CIC) in their product, the Toolshed.

The CIC Toolshed has the potential to change the way businesses manage their compliance with safety by replacing the need for physical forms and documents.

The Toolshed by CIC is a complete suite of apps that extends to include:

- Daily Operational Reports (DOR), Material Requisitions, Fault Reports, Incident/Injury Reports, Hazard Reports, Toolbox Meeting Reports, JSAs (Job Safety Analysis), Timesheets and Job Costs, Staff Alert System

Supported by a web based administration portal that manages users and their respective documentation, the Toolshed allows a more efficient and timely manner for field operators to communicate information to the main business, offering financial gains and valuable insights for businesses with field service operations.

To celebrate the launch of CCF Prestart, the app will be made available FREE for the month of November 2014 to all CCF Members. Visit the website www.toolshedapp.com and click the CCF icon to download.
